

NOVEMBER 2008

LAW FIRM ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Pro Bono Partnership was formed ten years ago to provide a vehicle primarily for in-house lawyers to provide meaningful pro bono representation to nonprofit organizations serving the poor and disadvantaged. Its Board of Directors is comprised exclusively of current or retired high level members of leading legal departments in the tri-state area.

Notwithstanding our focus on in-house counsel, law firms have become active partners in our pro bono programs by regularly providing volunteers and important financial support. In recognition of these contributions, the Partnership's Board of Directors has created a Law Firm Advisory Committee ("LFAC"), to be comprised of a select group of as many as 15 leading law firms that have provided substantial programmatic and/or financial support for the Partnership.

Current LFAC Firms:

Allen & Overy
Debevoise & Plimpton
Hogan & Hartson
Lowenstein Sandler
Shearman & Sterling
Sullivan & Cromwell
Weil, Gotshal & Manges